January 7th – Early Release

January 18th No School

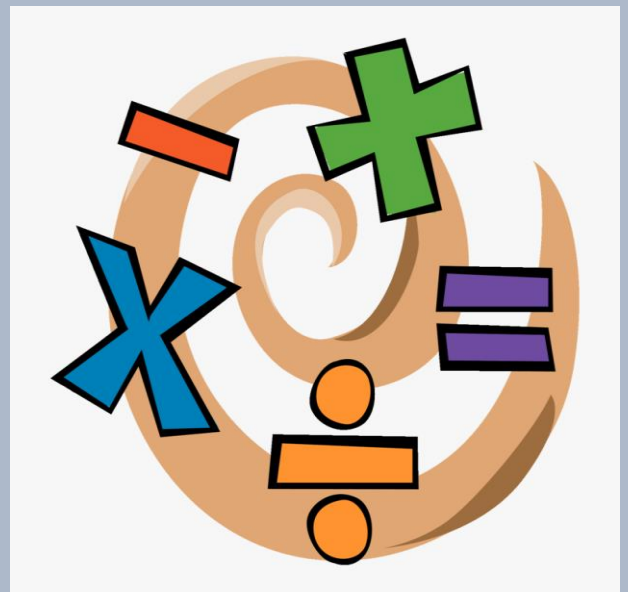

A look to this Month

In Reading: First graders will be working on Journeys:
A tree is a plant (Informational text) - Sequence of the story.
Grow Apples Grow! (Informational Text) - Captions
Seasons (Informational Text) - Cause and Effect.
Four Seasons for Animals (Informational Text) - Heading

For Writing: The students are beginning to work on writing informative/explanatory texts. They will continue working on using correct grammar, writing complete sentences, using punctuations, and different parts of speech in their writing.

In Mathematics: The students will find three addends using the strategies they learned in previous months, such as making a ten and adding doubles. The students will also use the making ten strategies to subtract a single-digit number from a teen number.

For Peace Education: This month, the students will learn about different strategies such as breathing in and out to relax their muscles. These strategies will help them to become better citizens.

For Social Studies: The students learned about how to read a map using the compass rose. In January, the students will continue learning about maps and will create their maps. First graders will identify different locations on the Florida map.

In Science: The students will be learning about the different patterns that happen on Earth and will be introduced to gravity law. First-grader will be working with vertebrates and invertebrate animals and the observable properties of matter.

Reminders:

1. The students need to do 30 minutes of i-Ready daily (Reading: Mondays and Wednesdays) (Math: Tuesday and Thursday) i-Ready login username will be the same as last school year.
2. Students have Art and PE on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Assignments for both subjects will be posted on Google Classroom.
3. Every Friday, we have "Show and Tell".
